SOME GREAT PICTURES.

A VISIT TO THE CORCORAN ART GALLERY.

A Crittenden County Boy Tells Something About the Great Gallery and Its Contents.

One who visits Washington should not fail to see the Corcoran Art Gallery.

It is located just north of the War Department. The building is a two story structure of the Renaissance style and was given to the public by the late W. W. Corcoran for the encouragement of fine arts.

The donor of this magnificent gift, including the building and priceless contents with an endowment, was born Dec. 27, 1798, and died Feb. 24, 1888.

On the ceiling on the side of the steps at the entrance are two immense bronze lions, copies of the famous lions at the tomb of Clement XIII, St. Peter's, Rome, made by Canova.

Just inside and directly in front of the vestibule is the great stair-way that leads to the main picture gallery.

The first object seen is a seated statue of Napoleon I, and just back of it on the north wall is a portrait of Mr. Corcoran. The main gallery is 95 by 44 feet. Turn to the right now and we will notice briefly a few only of the very many great works. On the south wall at the right of the entrance is The Vestal Tuccia, 54 by 98 inches, by Hector Le Roux, 1874. To prove her chastity, the Vestal Tuccia stands on the brink of the Tiber holding aloft in both hands a sieve, and prays: "Oh, powerful Goddess if I have always approached thy altar with pure hands, allow me to fill this sieve with the water of the Tiber and carry it into thy temple."

There are other figures watching; and in the background are the Tiber, a bridge and buildings. To this painting I am inclined to go first and to leave last.

Near it is A Shower, 20x31, by Luigi Chialiva, 1880. Some children under an umbrella are in a pasture with lambs crowding around and sheep surrounding.

On the same wall is Cattle on the Sea Shore, 42x64, by Richard Burnier, 1881. Two fondling cows form the front. Near is an attending Dutch girl, leaning on a long staff. In the background is the sea and a boat with sails folded about a tall mast.

Close by is Charlotte Corlay in Prison, 41x31, Charles Louis Muller, 1875. She shows through the prison bars a sad face but an iron will. Her story is a sad one.

Now to the left of the main entrance on south wall, Sunset in the Woods, 48x72, George Inness, 1891. This picture can be appreciated by only those who have watched the play of light and shade at sunset in a wood, and who will allow the imagination full play.

On the same wall is one of the most attractive paintings in the gallery, Going to Pasture. It is 77x103 inches, and was painted in 1889 by Gaylord Sangston Truesdell. It is a group of fourteen sheep, a peasant girl and a dog. They are emerging from a depression a road through a woodland. The dog is on the bank. Some of the sheep precede the girl and some follow. In the background is a hut. I go again and again to this great painting.

Going to the west wall we find The Drive at the Ford, 54x38, by James McDougal, 1874. This is another favorite of mine is a group of cattle approaching a ford through an opening in a fine wood. The light breaks through the background. In the middle of the west wall is a universal favorite. The Helping Hand, 60x89, by Emile Renouf, 1881. It is a fisherman's boat with a fisherman and little girl apparently five or six years of age. The little one has her hands laid on top of one of the great oars which her father works. She is evidently in the way, but her will is to help; and every feature of the fisherman shows he is helped.

Near this is Joan of Arc in Childhood, 22x18, by Jean Jacques Henner. The innocent face with deep liquid eyes is framed in heavy tresses of hair on either side, and wants any the tragic qualities that so marked the life of a heroine.

With a mere mention of The Schism, A Landscape With Cattle, and Paddy's Mark, I go next to the Lost Dogs, on north wall. It is 58x48, by Otto Von Thoren. Two dogs lost in a storm; one has his head hid under the neck of the other, and that one stands howling in dismay.

Further along is The Farm in the Wood, 16x56, by Theodore Rousseau, 1889; and near it is a kindred painting, A Forrester's Home, 40x56, by Ludwig Knaus, 1885.

Farther along is The Talking Well, 71x38, by Anatole Vely, 1873. A girl stands by the curbing of the well with her back to a high stone wall over which leans the undiscovered mystery, a boy who does the talking, much to the pleasure of both.

Reluctantly passing At the Watering Place, a group of rough fighting horses; A Lady and Dog, The Mask, or Fun and Frigate; Mid-day Dreams, 50x35, by Grayson, 1886; to Night, 84x52, by Albov Rebonet, 1867. This a nude allegoric female figure of great grace and beauty. It is just over the entrance to what we will the President's Gallery, which contains portraits by famous artists, of all the Presidents together with many other paintings of famous statesmen, soldiers, scholars and authors.

There is a striking portrait of John Howard Payne. It is a small picture and shows the author of "Home, Sweet Home," in his seventeenth year. He has a full round face that reminds one of the portrait of Robert Fulton.

In this room is A Pastoral Visit. The pastor is a colored minister visiting a family. They receive him with awe and the housewife divides the good things to eat with seeming reluctance.

In a northeast room is the largest picture in the gallery, A Boat Scene, about 8 by 10 feet, with three men pulling through rough waves. Here is also The Young Musician.

West of this is a rotunda in which are The Greek Slave, a nude sculptor of faultless symmetry; The Veiled Nun, a bust, remarkable for the veil deception; Geneva, a bust; Bacchante, a bust; Endymion, a reclining sculpture, and others.

West of this rotunda is another room which contains two pictures I will mention.

The Drouth in Egypt, 87x 108, by Jean Frances Portables. This picture contains more living death than anything I've ever seen. Woman and children surround a well where the water has turned to blood, there with drawn lips and sunken eyes they die a thousand deaths; read 43 and 44 verses of 78 Psalms.

It is refreshing to turn from this to Rebecca at the Well, 39x32, by Thomas P. Possiter. This picture has the sweetest face of any the gallery, a lithe and graceful form and is altogether a most pleasing painting. When looking at this beautiful girlish picture, the question rose with more force than ever: "Why did Jacob weep?"

But I must leave unnamed more than 200 great paintings and not even begin the great collection of sculptures; for it is 4 o'clock, the gong is sounding and visitors must go. D.

Union Circuit Court.

The past week has been one of rather peculiar proceedings in the circuit court. James Alvey was found guilty of selling liquor to a minor by a jury but the judge set the verdict aside and dismissed the case. Ben Catlett, charged with murder, by his attorney plead guilty as charged and was sentenced to the penitentiary for life. It is not often a plea of guilty to murder is entered, but when it is, it seems to us that the murderer ought to be hung—if any murderer ought to be. Lawrence Holt, for malicious wounding, was found guilty and given five years in the penitentiary. If it had been possible he would have received a life sentence. The case of Millard Hicks, charged with murder, also was out of the order of things. The defendant was charged with murder, plead guilty to manslaughter, the evidence was heard and without any argument the case was submitted to the jury, who returned a verdict fixing his term in the penitentiary at two years. The case against J. C. Blaneett for forgery will be concluded to-morrow. This week ends this term of the circuit court. Morganfield Sun.

No Fusion in Indiana.

Indianapolis, March 25.—A proposition to pool the forces of the Prohibitionists and People's party in Indiana in the nomination of State, Congressional and county tickets advanced some time ago, was vetoed to-night at a joint conference of the State committees of the People's party and Prohibitionists. The principal objection came from the Prohibitionists for the reason that their idea was ignored completely at the St. Louis convention, and another reason was the fact that the calls have already been issued for the State conventions of the two parties, and a joint convention would make it necessary to cancel these calls and begin over.

Mississippi Will not Exhibit.

Jackson, Miss., March 25.—The House of Representatives to-day voted against the proposition to appropriate $50,000 to the World's Fair by a vote of 20 to 78. An eloquent appeal was made by Mrs. Thatcher, of Chicago, in favor of the bill, but it was useless, and long before the measure came to a vote it was well known that it would not pass the House. A bill will probably be introduced authorizing cities and counties to vote subscriptions to the World's Fair, and there is a fair prospect of its passage.

Ate Human Flesh.

New York, March 25.—The American schooner Winnie Lawrey arrived here to-day after being out 105 days, and short of food sixty days. Three of her crew are missing, and it is intimated that they were killed and eaten by their seven shipmates in order that all might not die by starvation. This is, however, denied by the officers.

FOR CLEVELAND.

Another Precinct is Heard From.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 24.—The Democratic convention to-day was a Cleveland convention. Each judicial district in the State was given one delegate and one alternate to the Chicago convention. The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That we do not deem it wise to give our delegation to Chicago positive instructions; nevertheless, it is the sense of this convention that ex-President Grover Cleveland is pre-eminently the best representative of the Democratic principles, but should they become convinced his candidacy would not be the strongest possible, it is the judgment of the convention that they should use all honorable means to secure the nomination of a Western man.

Minnesota Reports.

St. Paul, Minn., March 27.—Reports have been received from seventy-five of the eighty counties of Minnesota as to the Democratic State Convention here on Thursday to choose delegates to the Chicago Convention.

Of the 449 delegates so far chosen, 405 are instructed for Cleveland. There are no delegates chosen for Hill, although the twenty selected from the counties of Brown and Washington are said to lean toward Hill. Palmer and Boies have a small following and Murray county delegate is Carlisle.

The party leaders say the convention will instruct delegates to vote for Cleveland from first to last.

A HUMAN OSTRICH.

Death of a Man Who had a Hard-ware Store in His Stomach.

St. Louis, March 25.—There died last night at the City Hospital a man, a post-mortem examination on whose body to-day revealed that the fellow was an ostrich in human form. His true name was John W. Gorman, but he was known in the museums as John Kennedy. March 21 he was admitted to the hospital, suffering from mechanical gastritis. Emetics given him caused the ejection of nearly a half pint of nails, screws, etc. This failing to relieve him, laparotomy was performed, resulting in the removal of as much more hardware, to no avail, for the man died in a short time.

At the post-mortem examination the stomach, its walls and lining were found entirely normal, but literally filled with the nails, screws, tacks and broken glass which the man had swallowed. A remarkable feature of their presence there was the fact that none of them were encased, and that was not one instance of perforation in any part of the stomach or throat by the sharp points or edges of these substances. But, beginning from the base of the tongue back to the esophagus and from there entirely down into the stomach, the nails, tacks, glass, etc., were found.

Many Negroes Leaving Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., March 26.—Six hundred and fifty negroes left Memphis this morning for Oklahoma. They will make the journey in wagons and on foot. It is expected one thousand more will leave for the same place Monday. The exodus is not directly due to the late lynching. The matter had been talked of before, but the lynching and the action of the colored mass meeting advising all who could leave precipitated it, and caused many to make up their minds to go who perhaps would not otherwise have done so.

TARIFF AND SILVER.

Texas Legislators Divided on the Two Questions.

Austin, Texas, March 24.—Last week the House passed a joint resolution demanding that Texas Representatives in Congress work for the free coinage of silver. A few days later the Senate adopted a substitute designating tariff reform as the paramount issue of Democratic policy. To-day the House rejected the Senate substitute by a vote of fifty-three to thirty-eight.

After a lively discussion, the House to-day passed a resolution inviting Horace Chilton, into Senator by appointment, and Mills, his antagonist in the race, to address the House Monday night. Yesterday at Tyler, his home, Chilton made a speech at a public reception charging his defeat to a combination between Senator Mills and Judge Clark, who is an opponent of Gov. Hogg. Chilton insinuates that Mills will shun the free silver issue in Congress.

The Liquor Business.

Although the prohibition law has been repealed in Hopkins county, yet it seems that those who want to sell liquor are rather slow in making their intentions known. Up to the present time no one has applied for saloon license in Madisonville. The town council met some time since and regulated the price for the privilege of opening a saloon. A number of ordinances, or rather an ordinance with several provisions was passed, a copy of which may be found on another page of this paper. The saloon keeper will be required to give a $1,200 bond for a faithful performance of his part of the contract. He will not be permitted to sell to any inebriate or to any one under twenty-one years of age, to keep open on Sundays or after eleven o'clock at night, all under heavy penalties. The law is also strict with regard to the dives that are now run in our midst. For each and every offense, the violator is liable to a fine of $100.—The Hustler.

WANT DAMAGES.

Daggett and Brindley Want Big Money. Paducah, Ky., March 26.—It is reported that Daggett and Brindley, who were arrested charged with the killing of Smith, the Kuttawa depot agent, have filed suits for damage against the city of Paducah for $10,000; the Paducah News for $25,000; the Standard for $15,000, and the Louisville Times for $15,000. False imprisonment is, alleged against the city, and defamation of character against the newspapers.

Iron Hill.

Uncle Andy Hill returned from a lengthy visit to relatives below Marion last week, but he got in in time for Mrs. Lamb's rail splitting, where he was the most conspicuous one present, so they say.

Married, at the residence of the bride's father, Sunday March 27, 1892, Mr. Joe Chandler to Miss Ida Allen. Aunt Phoebe extends congratulations, and wishes some nice young man who is tired of cooking would come around this way.

G. F. Clement has been visiting his son, F. M. Clement, jr. He says the city of Marion don't suit him.

T. M. Dean has bought the mule that Mrs. Annie Lemon sold a short time ago, and the mule was glad to get back to his old associates, so you need not tell me a mule hasn't got sense; he tried to shake hands with some of the boys, but they declined.

J. A. Wood was at Sugar Grove to the singing last Sunday evening.

The Sugar Grove Sunday school will open the first Sunday in April. A full attendance is desired, so come out, friends, and let us make our Sunday school a success.

George Williams got a letter last week, but found it was for some one else; he said he couldn't think why "Charlie" wanted to "spark" him for.

E. L. Horning got a move on himself during the late rise in Piney. He has been rafting saw logs.

Travis Bros. had a tussle with Piney, but the water went down before they got their logs out.

The boys around Sugar wear their hair according to the latest style, and the deftness of the one that is learning to shingle. Aunt Phoebe.

In Memory.

Freddie Hughes died Feb. 2, 1892, at his home near Crittenden Springs, aged five years, seven months and nineteen days. He suffered excruciating pain for hours before death, but was a patient little sufferer. He told his mamma that he wanted to be an angel, and asked her to sing the good old song, "I Have a Father in the Promised Land." While it rends our hearts to give him up to the cold grave, yet we know and feel that he is in heaven. E. H.

Wanted.

100 horse girls can get good homes in Marion and vicinity. By filling these places at once the mistresses of these homes can find time to call and see our stock of new spring wall paper, which we are selling as low down as 50 per cent. H. K. Woods.

Flowers for Sale.

In a few days I will receive a large lot of pot flowers, for sale. They will be sold cheap. Mrs. R. C. Walker.

NOTICE.

To all whom it may concern: The firm of Crider & Crider, of Marion, Ky., who have engaged in a general hardware business, have this day, by mutual consent, dissolved said partnership. Geo. M. Crider. Geo. H. Crider.

NOTICE.

Having bought out the interest of George H. Crider in the firm of Crider & Crider, I will continue the business at the old stand, and hope to serve you as well in the future as we did in the past. Respectfully, Geo. M. Crider.

We Are Still Here.

COMING SLOWLY FROM WESTON. I Am Hunting My Go.

WHY?

Because I save at least 20 per cent. On account of extreme high rates on railroads. The consumer will reap the benefit. An immense stock of all kinds of groceries and provisions always on hand. Early potatoes, oats and all kinds of field and garden seeds. Never out of anything except money. So bring me a little money and take out a load of goods as you have done in the past. Cash paid for chickens, eggs, and other kinds of produce except potatoes, beans, butter and garden eatables. Truly yours, M. SCHWAB.

Chickens Chickens.

Bring in your chickens and I will pay you 50 c a lb for them. I will receive poultry every Thursday. Geo L. Rankin.

Roarer Awake! Snorer Asleep!

ROARER Isn't caught napping. He is on to the best place to trade and knows by instinct or intuition when bargains are being placed upon the counters. By the way he is a frequent visitor at our store and from the fact that he continues we deduct the conclusion that every thing is satisfactory. This is as we wish it and as we strive to have it.

SNORER is a sheepy, thick headed fellow, who is not alive to the exigencies of trade and does not realize that right here in his own place is a store equal to any this side of Kalamazoo in every respect. If there is any way to awake Snorer, depend on us to find it; this seems like brag but it is straight truth.

DRY GOODS We have placed on our counters the largest and HANDSOMEST LINE of PRINTS, GINGHAMS, CANTON CLOTHS, BEDFORD CORD GINGHAMS and other style wash fabrics ever shown. If you want a nice dress for spring, you should visit HEADQUARTERS. We also have a very large line of Woolen Dress Goods in Solid, Plaids and Stripes from the cheapest to the best.

CLOTHING We want to impress upon the men and boys of Crittenden County that we are leaders in the clothing line; if you don't believe it, come and look at our stock and get our prices. Every article bought direct from the manufectures, guaranteed to wear as recommended. Buy direct from us, we protect you in price and quality.

Boots and Shoes We have the largest and best assorted stock in Crittenden county. They must be seen to be appreciated. Trunks, Valises, Umbrellas etc, at prices that defy competition. Wake up an visit us and we will convince you that

J. W. Shaw is Still in the Lead. All Kinds of Country Produce taken in exchange for goods

The old Firm at the old Stand. We are again in the Furniture business at the old stand, and have a large and well assorted stock of Household and Kitchen FURNITURE and will sell it as cheap as any house in Southern Kentucky. We want it distinctly understood and remembered that we are Low Price Furniture Men.

We mean to sell you goods at a price that will enable you to supply yourself with every article, not only of household necessity, but luxury, that you want in our line. Our stock embraces everything needed in the household. We also carry a large stock of Coffins & Caskets, and trim them to order on short notice, BURIAL ROBES AND SLIPPERS. Come in and look through, price and you will take off.

Walker & Olive. MARION, KY.

Adams & Wallace. Blacksmiths and Woodworkmen Marion, Kentucky.

Having bought out Mr. J. W. Adams, we take this method of informing the public that we are prepared to do all kinds of blacksmithing and wood work.

HORSE SHOING A SPECIALTY. Repairing of all kind done. Shop at old stand on College street. Adams & Wallace.

The Goods Must Be Sold!

We Mean What We Say.

A SURE CLEARANCE SALE!

Owing to the fact that the firms of Pierce & Yandell, and S. Gugenheim have consolidated and will move into the new building, near the bank, April 1, we now place before the people our two stock regardless of profit. We have over $10000,00 worth of Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats and Dry Goods, and it will pay you to see us before buying. Don't fail to see our stock and get our prices.

Democratic Convention.

Pursuant to the instructions of the Democratic State Central Committee, a mass meeting of the Democrats of Crittenden county is hereby called to meet in Marion on Saturday, May 14, 1892, at 2 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of appointing delegates to the State convention to be held in Louisville, May 24, for the purpose of selecting delegates to represent the Democrats of Kentucky in the National Democratic Convention at Chicago in June.

J. W. Blue, Ch'man.

Memphis Democrats have organized a big Cleveland Tariff Reform

A bill will be introduced in Congress to reduce the duty on tin plate from 22-10 to 1 per cent. per pound.

Gov. McKinley emphatically says that he will not be in Mr. Harrison's way for the Republican nomination.

As returns from the back precincts come in the evidence of Cleveland's substantial popularity grows strong.

New York sent the electric current through the body of another convict Monday. Jeremiah Cotto was executed by electricity.

So far all of the announced candidates for delegates to the Chicago Convention from the western districts of Kentucky are for Cleveland.

One economical measure passed by the legislature and now a law directs the Circuit Judges of the First Superior Court District to send convicts direct to the Eddyville penitentiary. Heretofore all have been sent to Frankfort first, and then the commissioners would return such as they pleased to Eddyville.

Sunday base ball playing in Kentucky is not popular with the committee to which the bill prohibiting it was referred. This committee reports that the bill ought to be passed. This committee is right, too. We know a great deal about puritanical laws, but there could be a large per cent. of these wholesome injunctions incorporated into our laws without putting us up to the puritanical standard.

May the 14th is a good time for the Democrats of Crittenden county to get together. Lay aside your work that day, and take a turn at naming a candidate for President. There are a very small factor when compared with the thousands of Democrats from one end of the county to the other, but we can talk and as much as the point as an integral part of the party.

John Hendrick is like an untrained two-year-old. He is troublesome, got started on the well worn, yet rough, Congressional race course. When the drum does tap, however, he is going to make things mighty warm for his co-laborers before the wire is reached. The latest news in the Courier-Journal and runs like this: "A straight tip comes from Paducah that ex-Senator John K. Hendricks has definitely determined to enter the race for Congress, and that his formal announcement will appear in a day or two."

Lyon county has begun the long, tedious and burdensome process of liquidating her railroad debt. The Eddyville Tale says:

"The people of the county are paying the railroad taxes right along and taking advantage of the 5 per cent. discount. The Treasurer, T. H. Molloy, made the first shipment of money to the Fidelity Trust and Safety Vault Company, at Louisville Wednesday. Therefore our county debt has already begun to grow smaller, and we predict that it will be only a few short years before Lyon county will be one of the most prosperous counties in this end of the State."

Charlie Meacham, of the Hopkinsville Kentuckian, has announced that he desires to be one of the Second district delegates to the Chicago Convention. He has fought the battles of Democracy in season and out of season in the hopelessly Republican county of Christian, and his fighting has not always been in vain, either. The Democrats of that district will not show a proper appreciation of his services as well as ability, if they fail to give him the honor of a delegateship.

The Legislature is going to ingratiate into the election law a section prohibiting the sale of liquor on general or primary election days. This is a good measure, and if it were constitutional to prohibit the giving away of liquor on such days, it should be done. There should be no half way steps in striking at this evil; the contamination of our elections with this degenerating practice is a shame and a disgrace. If there is a county in the State exempt from it, we are yet to hear of it.

The Crittenden Press says that if the report of the judicial Committee is endorsed that Crittenden will have a candidate for each office. It says that Judge T. J. Nunn will in due time offer for circuit judge, and that Mr. L. H. James will be a candidate for commonwealth's attorney. They are both good lawyers and would do credit to themselves and the district.—Sturgis Enterprise.

In a discourse recently Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, a Chicago minister, said: "Forget hell and let heaven alone until we close the hells of Chicago and make our city a terrestrial paradise." If this course is pursued it will be little said, in Chicago, about the two notable places mentioned before Gabriel blows his trumpet.

The call for the county convention to appoint delegates to the State convention is in this paper. Boys, come out. Let us have a big attendance. Let us show our faith in the cause, and our devotion to its principles. Come to the convention on the 14th, and if you have anything to say, say it. If you have a choice, make it known.

The Legislature will not pass the $100,000 World's Fair appropriation bill. It will be $50,000 or $75,000. To make a display creditable to the State, the counties, towns and enterprises most directly interested will have to go down in their pockets, and it is to be hoped that they will not be backward in doing so.

Louisville had a banging Friday. Henry Smith, a negro murderer, was he chief actor, and while he didn't appear to enjoy the proceedings, he has made no complaint since the performance.

According to the latest advice from China, extreme measures have been used to put down the rebellion in that country. Over 8,000 rebels were killed by the sword, and 500 burned to death.

There are already a number of candidates spoken of for Judge in the new proposed judicial district. The Hon. A. K. Bradley, of this place, is favorably mentioned and his friends are urging him to make the race. He has not as yet fully determined what he will do. Judge Nunn, of Marion, is announced as a candidate; Judge Darby, of Princeton, and Hon. J. K. Hendrick, of Smithland, are considering the matter. Capt. C. T. Allen, of Princeton, will undoubtedly be a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney. No other candidates, so far as we know are mentioned for the latter place.—Madisonville Hustler.

FINE TOBACCO.

A Large Quantity, Exceedingly Well Handled.

Tuesday a Press reported visited A. H. Cardin's large tobacco store at this place. Mr. W. D. Baird, the superintendent, accompanied the writer over the three floors of the big house, and pointed out the various grades of the largest and best purchase of tobacco ever made by one firm in Crittenden county. About one hundred hands were busily engaged in the conveniently arranged stemming room on the first floor; while on the same floor in another room one fore of hands were receiving and weighing and another fore prizing. The second story is pretty well filled with hanging strips, and here the great care that has been used in handling and assorting is plainly visible. The floor is scrupulously clean, and the hanging tobacco looks as pretty, neat, clean and straight as goods in a show window. Five assortments have been carefully made, two lengths and three colors. Looking under the lower tier, the lengths are readily observed, and going down the aisles the three colors are easily detected—the bright, the dark and the medium. The third story is filled with the strips, and here the same care and attention have been observed. Little aisles lead all through the rooms, and Mr. Baird can place his hand on the various grades of almost every man's crop, which Cardin's good prices have taken to his house. The grade of the purchases is far above the average; the smooth, lengthy, clean, the tough, oily leaves are pleasant to the touch and eye, and tempting to the taste. No man can look at this house of magnificent tobacco without recognizing the process of our Kentucky soil and the tiller thereof. Mr. Cardin has had thirty years experience in the business and has reason to be proud of his this year's purchase. He has frequently offered premiums for the best handled crops, and his interest in the growers portion of the work in the production and sale of the famous weed is bearing good fruit. Mr. Baird is an expert tobacco man, having been engaged in handling strips for years; he says this is one of the best purchases he has ever handled. His work shows that he understands the business; his close attention to every detail, fine judgment in classification, and scrupulous care in keeping the tobacco clean and free from trash or dust makes him a valuable man to the business. Mr. Cardin's purchases this year will aggregate four hundred hogheads of strips, and will unquestionably be the best purchase ever shipped from the county.

We strayed into the Sheriff's office Tuesday, and found two of the old citizens exchanging reminiscences of the past. They were Messrs. Thos. Greer and J. H. Walker, and the numerous incidents, personal and impersonal, of the thirties and forties were full of interest. Mr. Greer is in his eighty-second year. In 1836 he worked as a tailor near where Fredonia now stands, and where a country store was run by Harvey Bigham. The man on whose land the store was located, Mr. Rice, would not agree to sell any of his possession for town lots, and Bigham purchased land from Jesse Pemberton and began the town of Fredonia. The price paid for the land was $10 per acre, and it was then considered an enormous price. To meet his payments Bigham afterwards sold a portion of the land Jacob B. Crider who moved from near Piney camp ground and located on his purchase. Jacob B. Crider was the father of Hon. J. E. Crider. When Mr. Greer had related the details of the settlement of that section, he asked Mr. Walker if he remembered his brother. The reply was: "Certainly I do. In 1840 he was a saddler at Salem, and my father agreed that I should buy a saddle—my first one—from him, and I took 900 pounds of pork to Salem and gave it for the saddle, the price of which was $18." Thus the two old gentlemen continued, calling up incidents and people of the past.

If you want pure medicines and your prescriptions compounded accurately take them to Henry Woods. Col. E. W. Hill was in town Monday; he has been confined to his room for seven weeks and is yet very feeble. He is perhaps the oldest man in the county, being in his 87th year. He was one of the pioneers of the county, and the early events in its history are as well known to him as an open book.

Mr. M. Friedman, of this place, and Miss Yetta Frieberg, of Nashville, were married at the latter place Sunday evening, and arrived at Marion Monday. Where they will reside, Mr. Friedman recently embarked in the mercantile business at this place and though yet a comparative stranger, the people of Marion extend to him and his beautiful bride a hearty welcome, and wish them a long, happy, prosperous life.

Attorneys W. I. Clark and C. C. Grassham have formed a partnership for the practice of law at Smithland and Grand Rivers. Both are rising young lawyers; they have ability, are honest and industrious and will doubtless make their way to the top of the profession to which they will devote their talent and energies.

H. K. Woods says he is running a drug store exclusively, makes a specialty of prescription work, and would be pleased to have you call on him for anything in the drug line. A friend and admirer of John K. Hendrick came rushing into our office recently with a copy of the "Smithland News" and exclaimed, "John has announced at last," and turning the paper over he placed his finger on a picture of Bud Dale, the Paducah local keeper, and probably Third Party candidate for Congress. While a smile of satisfaction as broad as the Pacific ocean chased the gloom from his face.

At the depot a day or two ago, a considerable crowd collected; so many to meet friends and some to say "good bye" to friends. A gentleman present said: "This reminds me of Uniontown when a steam boat lands there. No matter what time of the day or night it is, or what kind of weather Foster or Hicks is serving out, when the boat whistles the entire population, white and black, old and young, dogs, pet goats, et al, make for the wharf. If a steamer or flat boat is sighted, somebody will give the alarm, and then you hear the patter, patter of feet as Uniontown goes to the river's brink."

If you house needs painting, call on Henry Woods, who, on account of the break in the trust on lead oil, can offer you some close prices.

A Sad Death.

Miss Lucy Thomas, daughter of Mrs. Carrie Thomas, of this place, died at the residence of Mr. Robert Hodges Saturday night at 9:30 o'clock. She became suddenly and violently ill Wednesday night, from which time to the hour of her death she suffered excruciatingly. She had brain fever, and from the first hour of her illness there was little hope of her recovery. All that human skill and love could do was done to relieve the sufferer, but to no effect. The remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at this place Sunday afternoon, and a large crowd of friends attended the services at the Methodist church and the interment. Mrs. Thomas, the bereaved mother, has the deepest sympathy of the entire community.

Death of an Old Man.

Mr. William Kennedy died at the residence of his son, W. B. Kennedy, of Lolo, a few days ago. He was a very old man—probably near 100 years. Before 1846 he lived near the old Hurricane furnace in this county, and there reared his family. In 1846 he moved to McCracken county, and shortly afterwards to Livingston and then to Trigg. A few years ago he went to live with his son at Lolo.

Death of Mrs. Lee Nunn.

Mrs. Leora Nunn, wife of Mr. J. J. Nunn, died at her home near Sullivan Monday morning of typhoid fever. Her maiden name was Black. She was a daughter of the late Judge N. R. Black, of this place. She was reared in Marion and has many friends here who are pained to hear of her death, and who deeply sympathize with the husband in this irreparable loss. Mrs. Nunn was an esteemed Christian lady.

A. J. Wheeler and John Rodgers were before Squire Jackson last week, charged with breach of the peace. It seems that Wheeler has been married three times, and had been divorced from two of his wives; he had written an insulting letter to his second wife, who was a sister of Rodgers, and the latter proceeded to punish Wheeler with his fist for the insult. Justice Jackson fined Rodgers $5.

PRINCETON PRESBYTERY.

An Interesting Meeting at Liberty Church.

Princeton Presbytery convened at Liberty church, Caldwell county, on the evening of the 29th. The Elders meeting convened in the afternoon, with W. P. Clark as chairman. Questions relative to church polity and church finances were interestingly discussed. Presbytery convened with five ministers and thirteen elders present. A. A. Deboe was chosen moderator. We go to press too early to give a synopsis of the proceedings in this issue. The next session will be held at Piney, in this county. There are seventeen churches within the bounds of this Presbytery, which includes Crittenden, Livingston and Caldwell counties, and embraces a membership of about 1,600; the membership of the churches is as follows: Bayou Creek, 40. Bell's Mine, 50. Bethlehem, 170. Cave Springs, 60. Flat Rock, 120. Fredonia, 170. Hopewell, 130. Liberty, 100. Marion, 50. Mt. Zion, 25. New Salem, 35. Piney, 300. Princeton, 200. Sugar Grove, 115. Salem, 20. Oak Grove, 40. Meadow Creek, 25.

We sell scissors guaranteed or money refunded at Crider's Hardware Store.

TO ALL INDEBTED TO THE LATE FIRM OF CRIDER & CRIDER:

Please call and settle your note or account as I wish to close up the books of that firm. Books and notes will be found at Crider's Hardware Store.

Geo. M. Crider.

Spring cloaks at Mrs. Wolff's.

PIERCE & SON.

My daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Williams, has just returned from the East with the largest and most complete stock of Millinery goods ever exhibited in this section of the state, which includes all of the latest styles and novelties. I will have my spring opening on April 1st, and 2nd, and invite all to come and see for themselves and be convinced. Thanking my former friends and customers for past patronage and soliciting a liberal share of the same in the future, I am most respectfully,

Mrs. F. W. Loving.

When in Marion you should come and see us, for we are the cheapest house in the county. Here are some of our prices:

4 1/2 lbs best coffee, $1.

5 lbs good coffee, $1.

6 1/2 lbs common coffee, $1.

20 lbs granulated sugar, $1.

25 lbs best N O oven kettle, $1.

In queensware and glassware we have it.

A set of cups and saucers, 20c.

A set of glasses, 20c.

A set of plates, 30c.

Everything else in proportion. Bring us your bacon, lard and eggs and get the best prices.

McConnell & Pickens.

A New Millinery Store at Salem.

We have just returned from the city with a nice selected stock of millinery goods of the latest styles. Our goods are all new and will be sold cheaper than ever before in Salem. We will also continue our dress-making. Thanking the people for their patronage in the past, we hope by fair dealings to merit a continuance of the same in the future. Call and see our goods and get our prices before purchasing elsewhere.

Respectfully,

Jeannie and Mattie Boon.
